DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 18-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over McFarland et al. (US Pat# 5,408,526) in view of Balaz (US Pat# 6,427,008).

Regarding claim 18, McFarland teaches a conference calling system comprising: a plurality of call detail records, periodic billing records and discount parameters in (see figs. And disclosure) but fails to teach calling plan characteristics associated with a subscriber.

Balaz teaches a call conference system wherein a conference leader or subscriber can designate certain parameters including area code(s) wherein special charges are to be applied as part of a subscriber profile in (see fig. 2, 3, 4, col. 1 line 56- col. 2 line 37, col. 4 lines 37-55, col. 6).

Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to incorporate the teaching of Balaz into that of McFarland thus making it possible to customize call conference as desired by conference organizers including incentive to attract customers.

Regarding claims 19-20, see the explanation as set forth regarding claim 18 in addition to the fact that various discounts can be applied to various legs. Furthermore, it would be obvious to apply the teaching of the combination to any network capable of supporting conference calling.
